

Here For You

1 Do you need the police?

If we can help we will, but there may be another service better suited, such as your local authority or housing provider.

Many calls to 101 are not police matters such as noise nuisance, fly tipping and dog fouling.

2 Did you know there are better ways of contacting the police without picking up the phone?

If you visit our website you can:

- Submit general enquiries.
- Contact a named officer.
- Get incident updates.
- Raise ongoing issues in your local area.
- Meet your local PCSO.

3 When should you call 101?

- To report a crime.
- To give information about a crime.

Always call 999 where there is a risk to life or there is a crime in progress.
